MUSEUM NOTES

The Warmest September on Record—Only One Frost.

In completing the weather record for the month of September it is noted that the September temperatures average four degrees higher than ever before in the records kept at the Museum. On the 15th, the maximum thermometer reading was 94 degrees, making that the warmest September day ever noted here. Only one frost is recorded in the village that on the 23rd, when fog prevented much injury. Hill crops about the town, however, were quite badly damaged by the frost that night and in some places they had been touched even earlier. The rainfall for the month—3.22 inches—was a little below normal in spite of the heavy rain on the 21st which amounted to 1.79 inches.

The following fruits and flowers not yet noted this season have been displayed on the Museum flower tables in the past two weeks: Matrimony vine, Sept. 22; peppermint, and fruits of milkweed and virgin's bower, Sept. 25; Jerusalem artichoke, heath-like aster and fruits of wintergreen and meadow rose, Sept. 29; tall cinquefoil, milk purslane, and fruit of black nightshade, maple-leaved goosefoot, common purslane, clammy ground cherry, partridge berry and dockmackie, Oct. 2.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Scott-Welch.

A very pretty but quiet church wedding ceremony was that of last Wednesday noon when John F. Scott and Miss Margaret Helen Welch, daughter of W. F. Welch were united in marriage by Rev. J. W. Dwyer. It was the first wedding to be celebrated in St. Aloysius church during Father Dwyer's pastorate of nearly two years, and the church was very beautiful with the recently completed decorations.

Mr. Scott was attended by W. Roswell Miles of Granville, a cousin and the bridesmaid was Miss Margaret B. Ling. Raymond Stenson and Walter Cassidy were ushers.

The wedding music was played by Miss Lillian Ryan, organist of the church. The wedding procession was formed in the rear of the church and was made up of the ushers, the bridesmaid and Miss Welch on the arm of her father. The groom and best man entered the sanctuary from the vestry and the ceremony was performed at the altar.

The bride's gown was old ivory satin with Brussels point lace over dress and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Ling wore a white lace gown and carried pink roses. The groom's present to the best man was a scarf pin and the bride gave her attendant a brooch.

Following the ceremony dinner was served at the home of the bride's father on Pearl street to about 25 of the wedding party. Those present from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kenefick of Barre, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Michell and son Dominick of Reading, Mass., aunt and cousin of the bride. A wedding cake of immense proportions occupied a place of honor on the festive board and a magnificent display of wedding presents, including cut glass, silver, linen and extremely useful checks were admired by the guests.

Mr. Scott is employed in the office at the freight station and is extremely popular. He attended St. Michael's college at Burlington and is a graduate of Burlington Business college. He has shown an active interest in social and athletic affairs in St. Johnsbury and also in the affairs of St. Aloysius church and the Knights of Columbus. His bride is a native of this place and has a wide circle of friends. She is a graduate of St. Johnsbury Academy, class of 1910.

The young couple are enjoying a trip to Boise, Idaho, and on their return will make stops in many prominent places. They will make their home here.

Spencer-Buckley.

The following item is taken from the Waterbury (Conn.) American of October 1:

Captain Harry Spencer of the steamer Metapan of the United Fruit company and Miss Harriet Frederika Buckley, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Dashiell Buckley of this city, were quietly married at high noon Wednesday, in Belmont Chapel of Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York city. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father. There were no attendants, and only relatives and few intimate friends were present. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Biltmore, the guests being the members of the immediate families of the young people. Capt. and Mrs. Spencer left shortly afterward for a wedding journey, and on their return they will reside at Paulmar Court, 643 West 111th Street, New York city. No cards of invitation or announcement were sent out.

Gauthier-Guyer.

At ten o'clock Tuesday morning at Notre Dame church, Aldora J. Gauthier and Miss Annie J. Guyer were united in marriage by Rev. E. C. Drouhin. Music for the service and mass was rendered by Mrs. Dalgie, organ, John Henault, violin, Kapou Provencio, cornet. Dr. J. D. Bachand also sang a solo. Before the ceremony the bride as a member of the society, the Children of Mary, attended by two members of the order, Misses Isabel Morency and Leonia Tremblay, read her consecration before the altar to the Blessed Virgin. The ushers were the bride's brother, Alphonse Guyer, and John Prevost. The groom was attended by his cousin, Henry Liberty, as best man and the bride by the groom's sister, Miss Jennie Gauthier, as bridesmaid. The bride was daintily gowned in white net trimmed with white satin. Her veil was caught with a pink rose. Miss Gauthier wore pink crepe de chene and a black velvet hat trimmed with a pink rose. Dinner was served by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Gauthier. Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier are spending a week in northern New Hampshire. The ushers will make their home with the bride's brother, George Guyer. Mrs. Gauthier's traveling suit was dark blue. The groom is agent for the Grand Union Tea Co.

On Wednesday evening about 50 girl friends of the bride gave her a reception at the home of her brother, George Guyer, and presented her with a dinner set. Mrs. Amelia Coucheau making the presentation speech. The same evening friends of the groom called upon him at his home on Concord avenue, and presented him with a dining room set.

Bankers at Banquet.

St. Johnsbury sent 19 men to the banquet of the Northern Bankers' association at Lake Tarleton, Friday evening, the largest representation of any town in the association. The meeting lasted through Saturday and Sunday but none of the St. Johnsbury party remained after the banquet. Every bank in town was represented by its directors or officials. C. W. Barron was the principal speaker and spoke of the wonderful opportunity America has for financial and commercial leadership in the markets of the world.

The 25 cent piece was made famous by the American Liver Tablets, the perfect laxative.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Johnson entertained his children and grand children at a family dinner party last Friday, October 1, at their home. Mr. Johnson received several presents, flowers and good wishes for many returns of the day. His daughter, Mrs. Charles Stas of Barton sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Mrs. Charles W. Curtis gave a very delightful party in the form of a luncheon on Friday evening, September 25, in honor of her brother, T. A. Corfield, who arrived a few days ago from Great Falls, Mont. The table was elaborately decorated with white and pink asters at which 14 guests sat down. After luncheon the evening was spent in music and dancing.

Among some of the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Corfield of Sherbrooke, P. Q., and Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Aston also of Sherbrooke, and who are spending their honeymoon in St. Johnsbury.

Those employed at Green's bakery enjoyed a corn roast last Thursday evening at the home of Alice Coveny. The Cornus club held a very pleasant meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. M. J. Delaney.

Rev. and Mrs. Frederick B. Richards, delightfully entertained the young people of their parish who are above the Academy age on Tuesday evening at the Manse.

A GRANITE TOUR.

St. Johnsbury Party Visited Vermont's Famous Quarries.

The morning of September 19 Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Garfield and son, Stanley, together with Miss McManis of Kirkdale, P. Q., also Mrs. Morris Smith of Glover, motored to Woodbury, passing through Danville, Walden and Hardwick, then up the mountain to the quarries. The little Ford took six of us quickly to the summit from which we had a grand view of the vast business being done there. The granite is a splendid white or rather gray in color. This work is all done by compressed air. Immense blocks of granite are hoisted upon a trolley carriage then shot through space and loaded upon steam trucks to be taken away for sale. The refuse is dropped into the valley below where thousands of tons have covered land and trees making great piles of granite alone seem like glistening peaks raised by some great hand of nature. One can look along for a range of six miles and see where they have promise of work for the great future. At the summit which is nearly level, there are houses which contain all modern business machinery for running this immense business.

The property is owned and conducted by the Woodbury Granite Co. When in full force they employ about 500 men. Large boarding houses are in view, also small huts for the operatives along the mountain side. About 150 feet from the surface to the bottom of this chasm where we stood the tall trees look like small bushes. On our way up we found great ripe mulberries, also many ripe raspberries, together with green ones and many blossoms.

After taking a few snap shots we coasted down the mountain, stopping only for lunch. About 1:30 we started for Barre passing through Galais and East Montpelier where we found the very pretty little city of Barre. After a short trip of sightseeing there we motored on through Granville to the finest quarries of granite in the world. Here we find the blue granite which is very fine and seems superior to that of the Woodbury quarries.

After leaving the car we only had a walk of perhaps five or six rods when we came to the edge of a great chasm which is nearly circular in shape and void of anything green. One feels as he looks down this chasm that it is indeed the bottomless pit. This great pocket is 500 feet wide and probably 150 feet deep in the center. Great portable ladders are laid up the sides from the bottom for the workmen's use. You can hardly believe that any living being could scale such dizzy heights. There are numerous pockets along the mountains and one can see the granite piled high in mid-air in each of these quarries are controlled by the Boutwell Granite company.

Leaving here we motored through Orange and Topham over the Waits River to Bradford and up the Connecticut, covering a distance of 135 miles.

Bishop Hamilton to Attend Rededication of Methodist Church—Death of Mrs. Mary E. Davis.

(Mrs. C. W. Bartlett, correspondent.)

The extensive repairs which have been made on the Methodist church are nearly completed. The upper part of the church has been newly decorated, varnishing done and a new carpet laid which makes a great improvement. There is to be a dedication in the early part of November when it is expected that Bishop Hamilton of Boston will be one of the speakers.

In spite of the rain there was a large attendance at the school fair and dinner which was held last Saturday.

Died at Philadelphia, September 25, Mary E. Davis, wife of the late Dr. Albert A. Davis of New York city. The funeral was held at the Holy Trinity church in Philadelphia, Tuesday, September 28, and the remains were brought to Danville Wednesday morning for burial and were accompanied by the Rev. Dr. Thompson, daughter and niece. The Episcopal service was read at the grave by Rev. Dr. Thompson and prayer was offered by Rev. C. A. Adams, pastor of the Congregational church.

Mrs. L. A. Rowe visited relatives in Peacham last week.

Rev. Paul Dwight Moody of St. Johnsbury will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church Sunday morning, October 10. The pastor will supply the pulpit of the Peacham church the same morning.

The entertainment of the Village Improvement association last Friday night was one of the best and most unique ever presented before a Danville audience. Every part was extremely well taken. The costumes, both of the wax workers and of the specially good. Mrs. Katherine Davis, as the fairy, and Prin. W. J. Rideout, as the showman, were well adapted to their parts. The farce, "A Difference in Clocks," was well staged by Mrs. A. E. Currier and C. W. Bartlett. Because of so general a demand the entertainment will be repeated in the hall next Thursday, October 7, and the management have engaged Miss Elizabeth Peck, violinist, of St. Johnsbury to assist in the entertainment.

Thompson.

George Dexter Thompson, son of Ella Dexter and Joseph Thompson, was born in St. Johnsbury June 7, 1892. In 1908, with his parents, he moved to Peacham and about two years later they moved to North Thetford where he since made his home. He was ill but three days with infantile paralysis and died at 7:45 Thursday forenoon, September 30. He is survived by his father, and mother of North Thetford and one sister, Mrs. George Caswell, of this place. He had been employed under Station Agent Eugene Howe at North Thetford and assisted in other work in the village. He was a very promising and popular young man and leaves many friends here and at his home in North Thetford. The funeral service was held at the grave in North Thetford Saturday. The many beautiful floral pieces proved the friendship and sympathy of his many friends.

Dean of Simmons Coming.

On Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at Pythian hall the October meeting of the Woman's club will be held. The program which has been arranged by the education committee, Mrs. Rebecca P. of committee meetings, etc., may as well be done in Hanover. The student will so plan that his time in St. Johnsbury will be taken up with work which he cannot do elsewhere, as for instance, attending committee meetings, interviewing business men when he should do it rather than delegate it to some member, making investigations, etc. The student's time at Hanover is so arranged that he can spend several hours any day on this work, and there would probably never be more than a space of two or three days that he could not come to St. Johnsbury if necessary. Most of the actual work and all of the determination of policy and such will be done by members, working usually as committees. The idea of an expert secretary or business manager is that there is a need for someone who may advise as to best policy and methods, who will act as an accelerator for the organization, who will see that the work does not lag, who will attend to certain clerical or technical details, and who does very little actual field work except when necessary to complete the work of some delinquent committee.

After a resume of the successful work this school has already done, especially at Bellows Falls, the club voted to arrange for a similar secretaryship here.

L. A. Wood, county agricultural agent, spoke of co-operative farming, buying and selling and described his work for the benefit of those present.

Judge Harland B. Howe followed with an announcement of the proposed plan to invite the farmers of the county to be the guests of the Commercial club at a meeting to be held here early in December, when many eminent agriculturists will be present to give interesting and instructive talks and demonstrations to those attending.

These plans already partly developed, were placed in the hands of the executive committee for completion and the meeting was adjourned.

EAST CONCORD

Ellery Adair of this place and Miss Minnie Carpenter of Dalton, N. H., were united in marriage at Lunenburg, Monday evening, October 4, by the Rev. Albert Gregory. They were attended by the groom's sister, Miss Kathleen Adair and Tracy Ball of Concord.

These plans already partly developed, were placed in the hands of the executive committee for completion and the meeting was adjourned.
